City of Bothell Provides Citizens New Downtown Bothell Revitalization Inquiry Line: 425.806.6897 & Public Outreach Schedule

Bothell, Wash. - As part of the major Downtown Bothell Revitalization effort, the City of Bothell created a new inquiry line for citizens to call with questions and comments related to the effort: 425.806.6897. This recorded line will be responded to within 48-hours (business days apply) by City staff. Comments and questions can also be emailed to downtownplan@ci.bothell.wa.us. For details on Downtown Bothell Revitalization, visit www.ci.bothell.wa.us.

“As part of the Downtown Bothell Revitalization effort, public outreach is a key component and our staff is providing multiple ways to encourage constant communication with citizens; this new inquiry line is just one element of the outreach program,” said City of Bothell City Manager Bob Stowe. “City staff will be on-hand throughout July and August at various sites in the community to share informational displays and updates.”

City of Bothell staff will be onsite throughout the community to answer questions and share informational displays per the following schedule (subject to change):

About Downtown Bothell Revitalization

In its 100-year history, City of Bothell has gone from frontier town to vibrant employment and educational center. As the Centennial approaches in 2009, we strive to provide even greater opportunities for citizens through new downtown jobs and housing options, new and improved public spaces, and by reconnecting the city to its river heritage. The City is working on several projects to restore the vibrancy to downtown and give the figurative heart of the City its beat.

In Bothell's recent history, the development of the technology corridor fueled the local economy and provided financial resources to supply municipal services. Now, new proposed downtown public projects promise to produce the next generation of Bothell reinvestment. In the next 25 years, proposed downtown public projects using existing resources and grants are projected to catalyze $670 million in private mixed-use investment, 1,600 new permanent jobs, more than 2,000 residential units, and 650,000 square feet of commercial space for new business in Bothell's downtown 200-acre area.
